

BADDIES AT THE BUS-STOP

by Toby Hazel

There's baddies at the bus-stop, but I'm not scared at all

'cos I've got a special ray gun that can shrink 'em really small.

There's a creature near the roadworks that's made from mud and clay but I splash him with a puddle and he simply melts away.

At the shop there's monsters who are hiding in the aisles

but I scream so very loud at them they run away for miles.

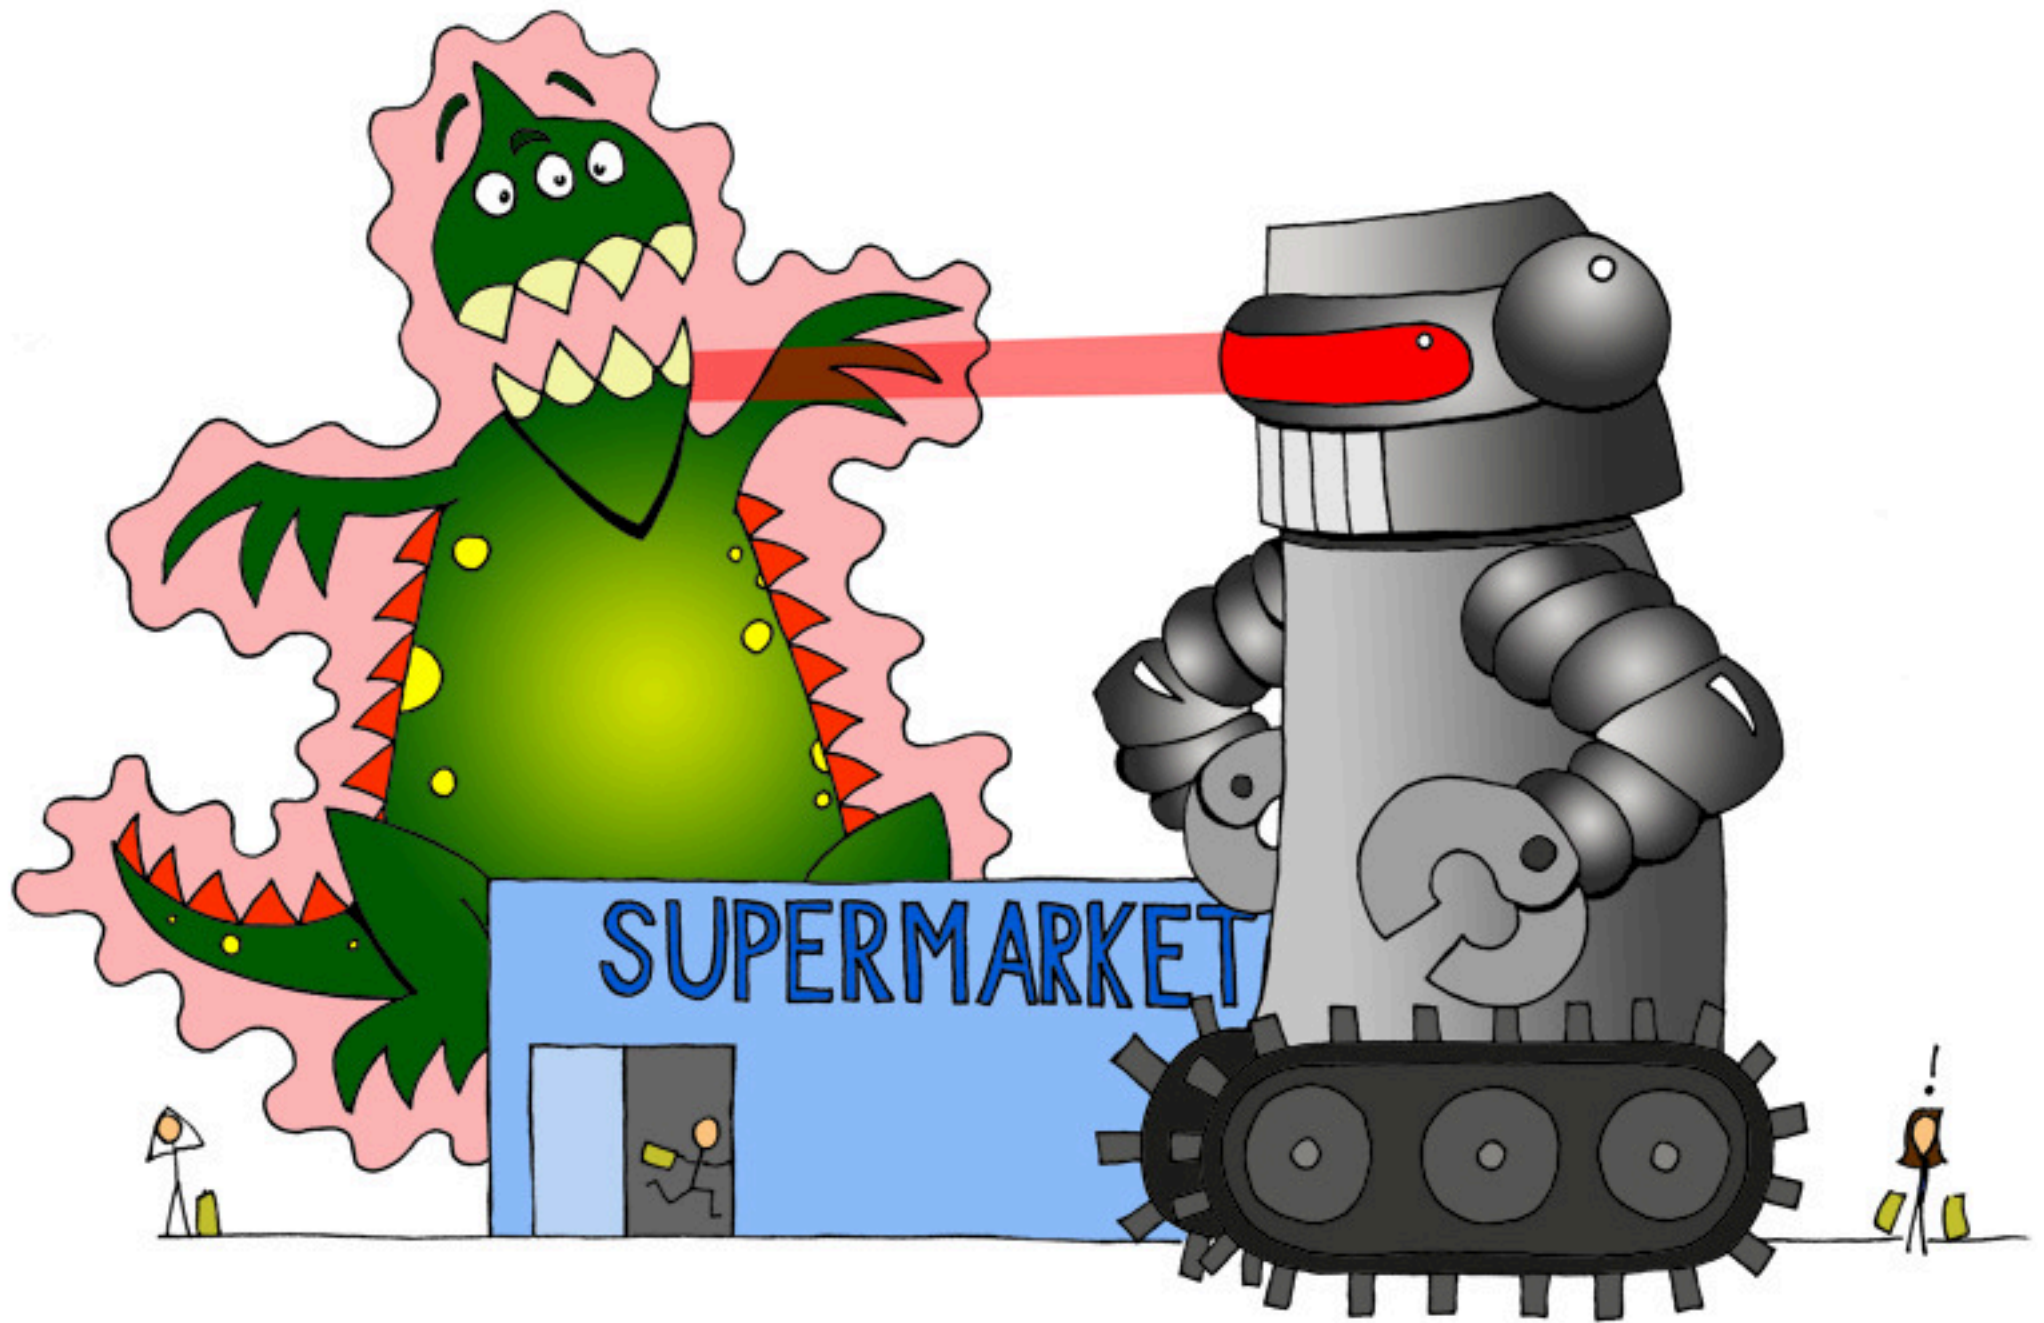

And also there are ninjas that are skulking by the tills

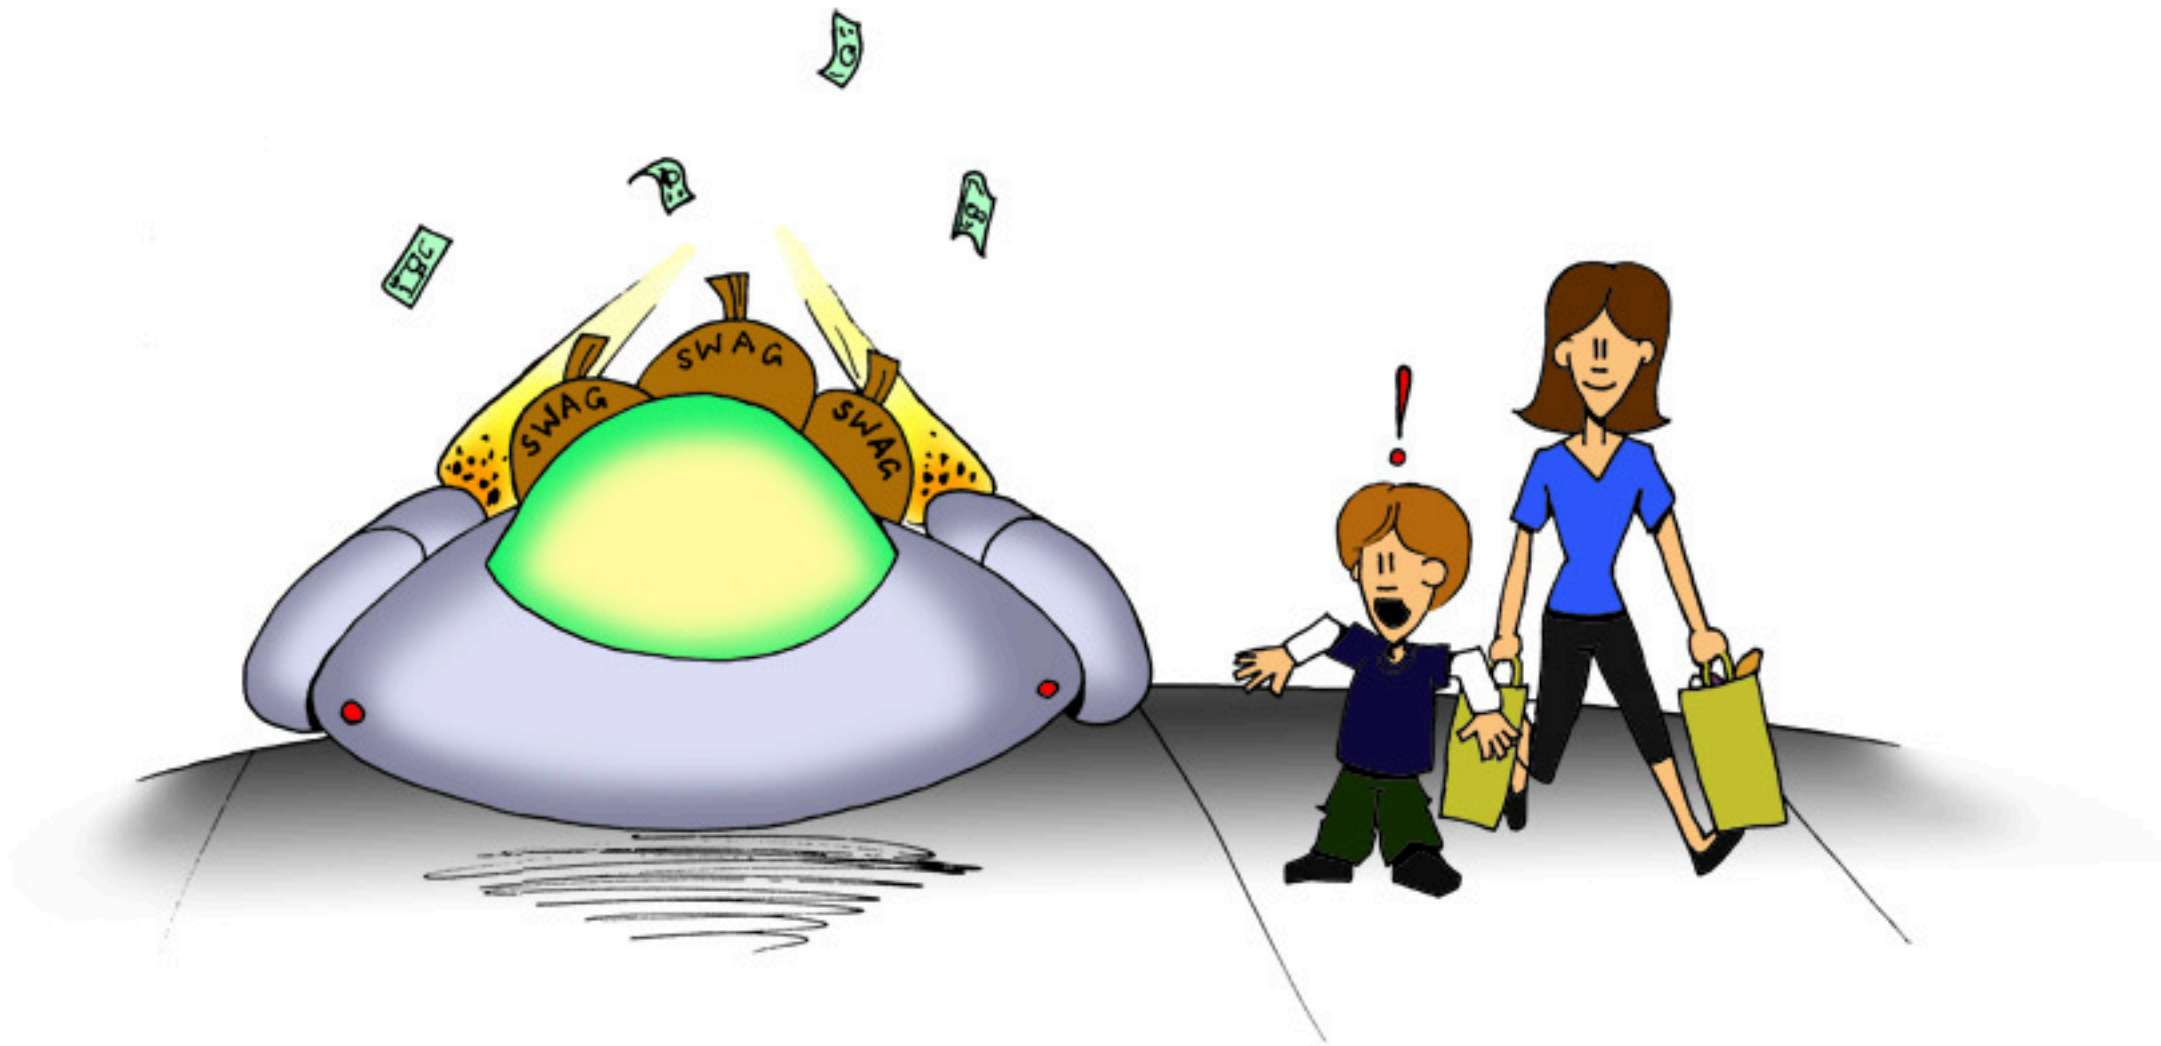

but I defeat them easily with my karate skills.

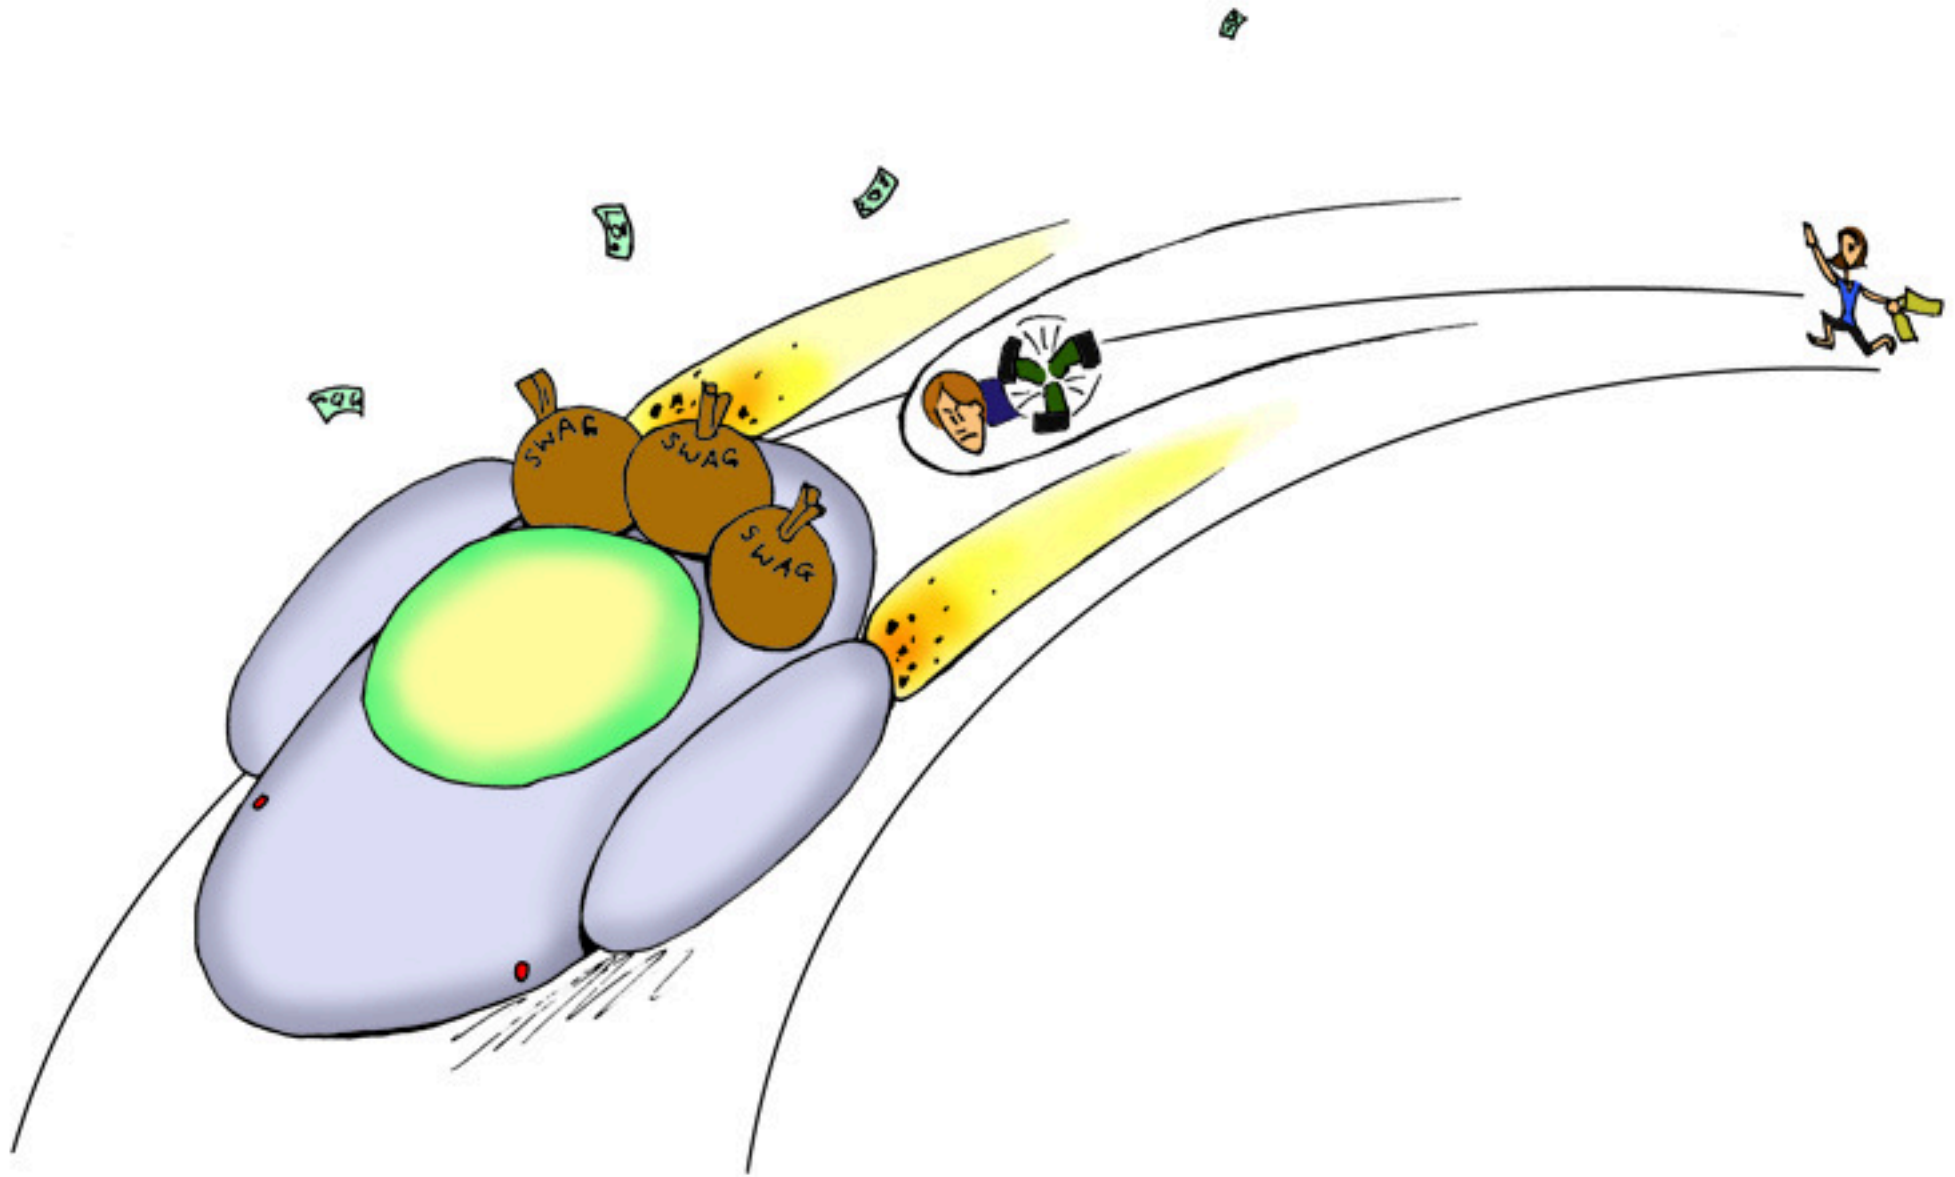

Outside a mutant dinosaur is in for a surprise

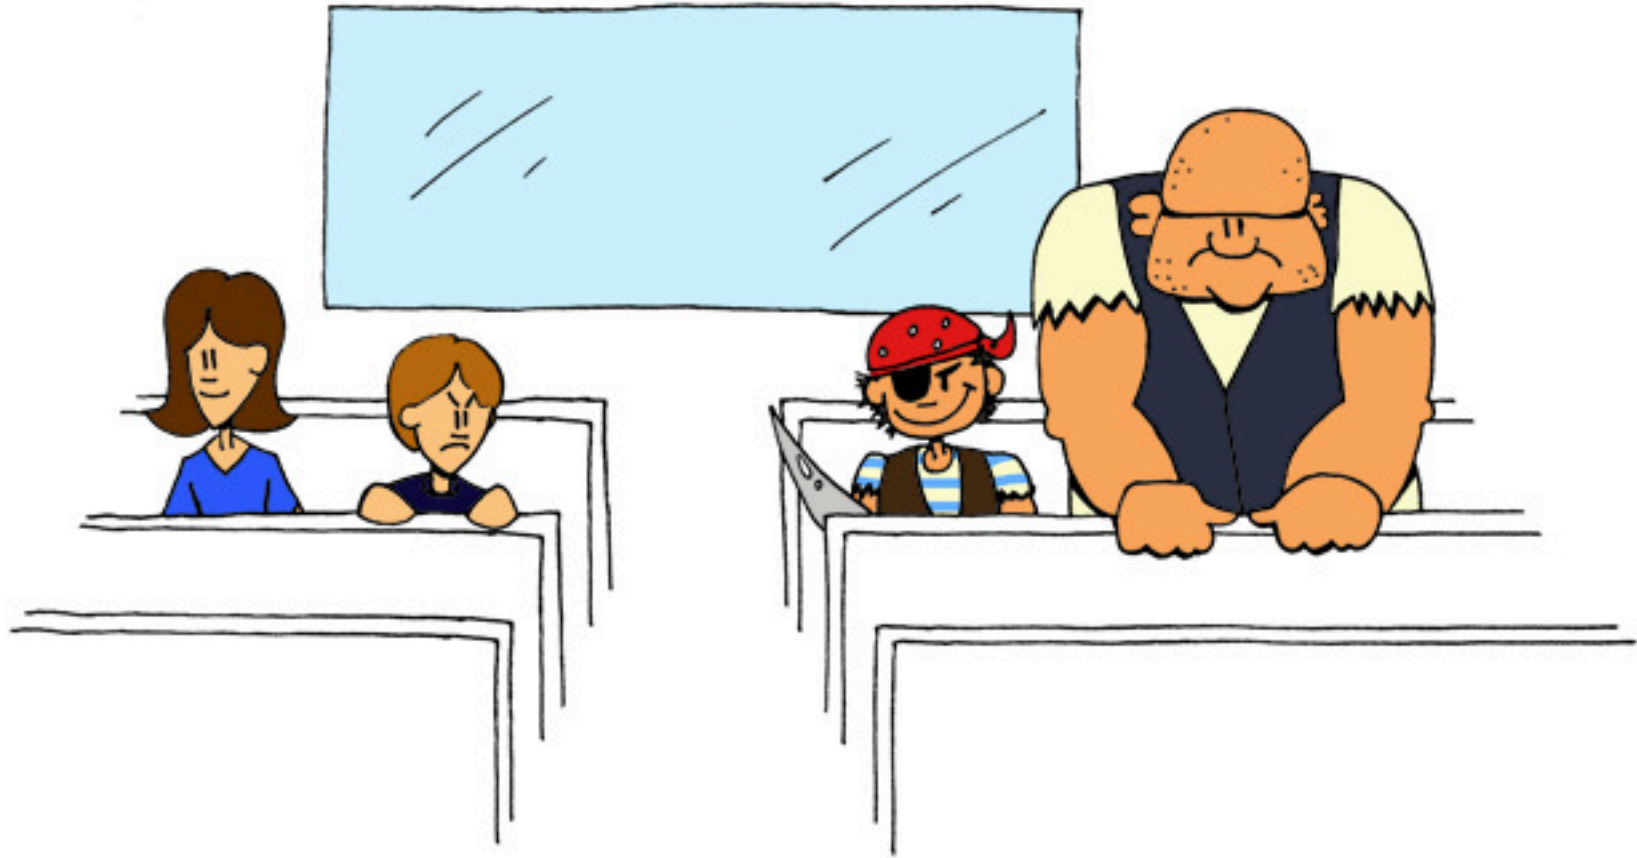

'cos I'm a giant robot who shoots lasers from his eyes.

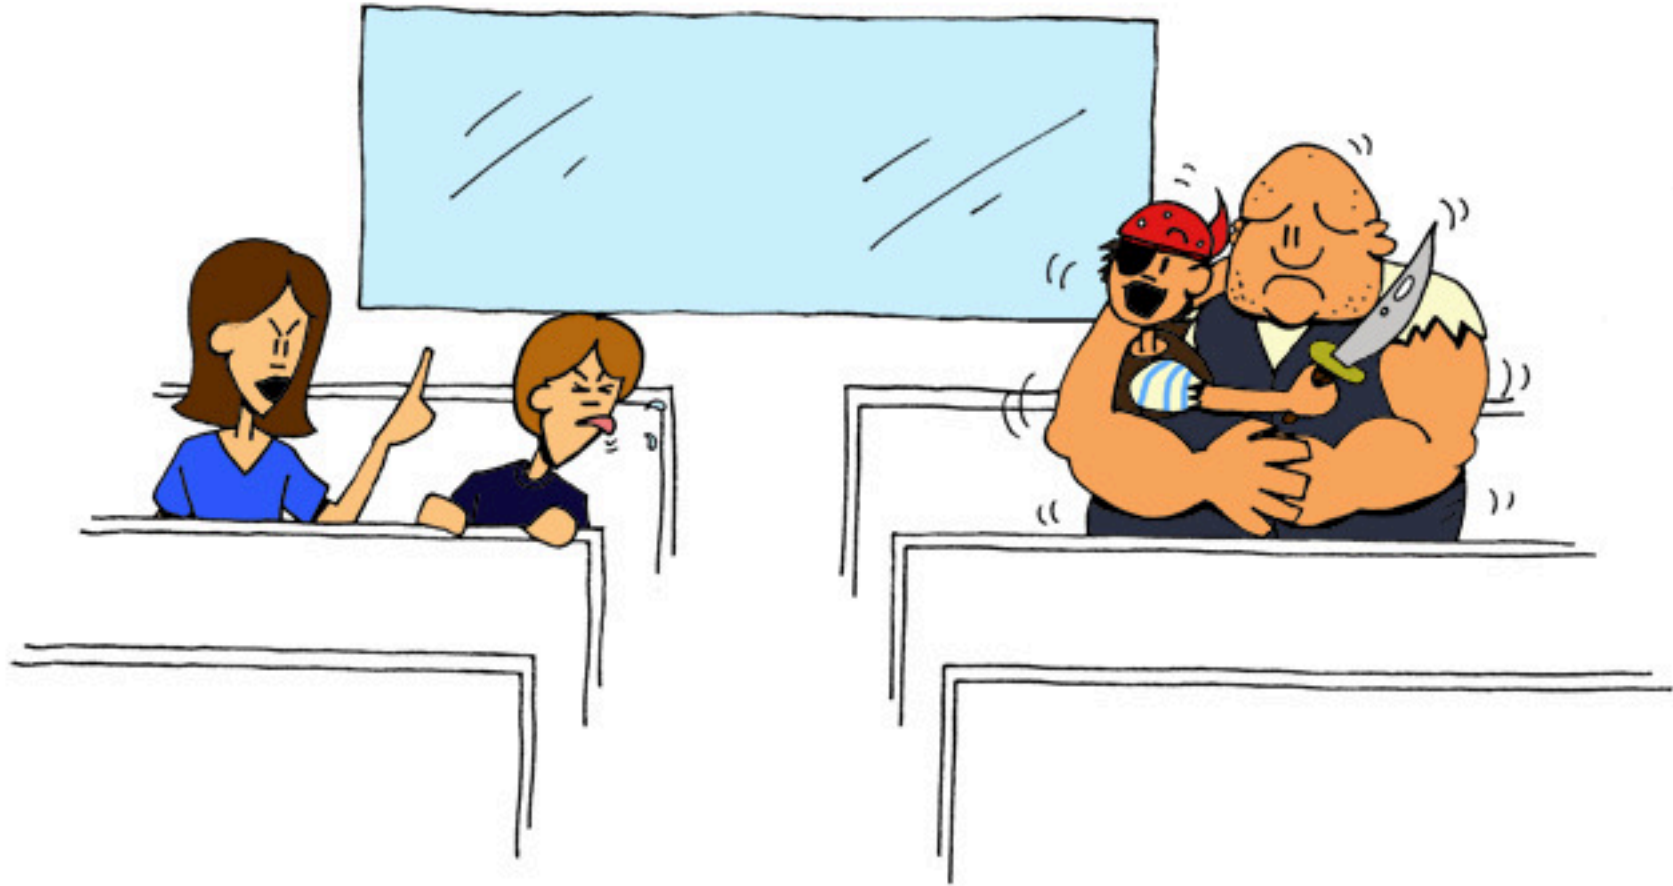

Now supersonic villains are going for a drive

but I can catch them easy - I'm the fastest boy alive.

There's baddies on the bus home that only I can see but they've heard about my special gun so now they're scared of me.

We're home and there's no baddies here and Mum is very glad that I kept her safe and sound with all the tricks I learned from Dad.
